What's in the Secret Sauce:

The Culture of an ABC Top Performer

From coast to coast, in any industry segment, among businesses large and small, ABC's 2022 Top Performers all agree: Culture is essential to a thriving and vibrant workplace, retaining top talent, creating safe and healthy jobsites and building better communities.

The construction industry needs to attract more than a half million additional workers on top of the normal pace of hiring annually to meet demand. ABC Top Performers know the recipe for the secret sauce that creates a robust employee value proposition, attracts and retains top talent and optimizes productivity.

Culture

Instilling a family-oriented culture is a common theme for three woman-owned top performing contractors: Durr Heavy Construction, Harahan, Louisiana; JD James Inc. DBA Nature Bridges, Monticello, Florida; and Stronghold Engineering Inc., Perris, California.

Durr Heavy Construction is a civil contractor that specializes in site preparation, demolition, utilities and concrete paving. In business for 67 years, Durr has been an ABC member for 45 of those.

"Our people often say that they are not just a number, and that is our No. 1 value proposition," said Dana Stumpf, CEO of Durr. "To be a functional family, we actively develop Durr's culture through continuous improvements to who we are in all facets of life: contractors, professionals and humans."

A 31-year-old general contracting, electrical, civil, renewable energy, design-build-design and construction firm specializing in renowned projects for some of the nation's largest organizations, Stronghold Engineering has been an ABC member for much of its history and has had apprenticeship agreements in place since 1993. The contractor has designed and constructed high-profile, ground-up facilities; technically challenging repair and renovations for historic structures; significant seismic upgrades; and large civil, infrastructure and electrical projects exceeding $2.5 billion in cost.

"We create the family atmosphere through our core values of quality, safety, teamwork, integrity and commitment," said Beverly Bailey, president and CEO of Stronghold. "In the marketplace, Stronghold is known for construction excellence, an eager team and a quality work product."

A 10-year member of ABC, JD James Inc. DBA Nature Bridges is comprised of two divisions: Nature Bridges, top-down construction bridges and boardwalks, and JD James Inc., architectural millwork installations. The leadership at Nature Bridges believes it is important to give back to something that is bigger than yourself.

“We call it life work, not work life, because we want to make our teams’ lives better. We believe in promoting from within by utilizing ABC’s apprenticeships programs.”

Albuquerque, New Mexico

“Because we are a family-oriented business, our culture allows us to offer competitive pay, benefits and flexibility,” said J.D. James, president of Nature Bridges. “We believe in giving people a second chance and helping them get back into society to be successful in the workforce.”

Employers of Choice

Attractive compensation and benefits and open lines of communication are common threads for a strong culture.

Brown & Root Industrial Services, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, which performs more than 30 types of industrial services in nearly 30 states and five countries, is a $1 billion company employing about 9,000. Formed as a renewal of Brown and Root in 2015, Brown & Root became a member of ABC as one of its first actions “because the merit shop philosophy is that important to us,” said Andy Dupuy, president and CEO of Brown & Root.

“We pay well, offer great benefits, create nice work environments and invest in our people through development programs, upskilling and creating career paths,” said Dupuy. “Each employee has a succession plan, and they know where they are heading in their careers. We are a favored employer and believe diversity of thought is of vital importance to Brown & Root. All of these factors contribute to our dynamic culture.”

Also devoted to the merit shop philosophy is Mountain States Fence, which offers a range of commercial and industrial fencing products in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. A 60-year-old small business that employs 40 people, the contractor is headquartered in Salt Lake City and has been a member of ABC since 1983.

“When you look at our culture, the levels of trust and loyalty are high, we compensate well and we win quality work,” said Rick Higgins, president and CEO of Mountain States Fence. “We all believe in this company and we are fair and honest with our employees.”

Another outstanding company is SDV Construction, a service-disabled, veteran-owned small business in Albuquerque that is a full-service general contractor in every procurement with clients like the U.S. Department of Energy, local school systems, the Catholic Church and the space exploration industry. The diverse contractor has been an ABC member for 15 years and has a workforce comprised of nearly 25% veterans and revenues of around $25 million annually.

“OTOG is everywhere; it’s on our jackets, hardhats and backpacks,” said Paul Farless, SDV president and CEO. “Our employee value proposition is to keep compassion and humanity in the organization. We care for our team and the contracting teams we work alongside. We treat people like humans, knowing our work is not always the priority; our families are the priority.”

Leadership

Among the cultural ingredients that comprise the secret sauce of ABC Top Performers are leaders who create and embody the culture, strong recruitment and retention programs, and a commitment to employee health, safety and innovation.

SDV's leaders believe it is important for their team to operate holistically, both mentally and physically. Benefits and perks include a wellness program that includes a $250 check for completing an annual physical and bloodwork, an insurance program that requires only minimal insurance copays, remote work options, a 4% match to employee 401(k) contributions, tickets and parking passes to sporting and entertainment events and bonuses.

"We call it life work, not work life, because we want to make our teams' lives better," said SDV's Farless. "We believe in promoting from within by utilizing ABC's apprenticeships programs."

"Our leadership team and structure are very intentional," said Bailey of Stronghold. "Our leadership team radiates our core values in everything that they do. We meet regularly to remain aligned on our initiatives and try to improve as a team."

Brown & Root's leadership team includes three former chairs of the ABC Pelican chapter's board of directors.

"Our company culture embodies what ABC embodies because of who sits on our leadership team," said Dupuy. "The leadership team sets the priorities, outlines expectations, gives direction and then allows our people to innovate and execute. We don't tell people how to do their jobs; instead, we give them a vision and goals."

"We believe in having a family atmosphere at work and we work hard to instill values that our employees will take with them," said

James of Nature Bridges. "It's important for us that if they leave, they leave better than before they joined our team."

"Culture is one of my primary responsibilities and it is my job to set the direction and the tone," said Durr's Stumpf. "However, as it relates to our culture, leaders are at every level of our organization."

Recruiting and Retaining Top Talent

"We invest in our people," said Higgins of Mountain States Fence. "We are involved in ABC, and we upskill our workforce through craft, safety and leadership courses."

After conducting an employee survey, SDV Construction made the move to a permanent four-day work week.

"The 4/10 work week has been one of the major components of success in recruitment and retention," said Farless, but he is also quick to say that SDV leaders are selective about who they hire.

"We look for character over capability," he said. "We try not to hire arrogance or attitude. The craft skills part is trainable, but it's hard to teach the soft skills. We don't hire to fire; we hire to retire. Our intent is to hire someone who will work for SDV until they decide they don't want to work anymore."

Bailey of Stronghold pointed back to culture as an essential recruitment and retention tool.

"Our culture of family creates a space that cares for our team," said Bailey. "We work hard to relay this to our team, and it shows by the level of talent that we recruit and retain."

Employee recruitment has been a valuable tool for Nature Bridges.

"The employees we hire have heard about us because our employees are our best recruiters," said James. "In fact, 95% of our employees have come from employee recruitment.”

Given Brown & Root’s large workforce, the contractor invests heavily in recruitment.

“We want the right talent and right person on the right project; it is important to match the craft strengths to the needs in the marketplace,” said Dupuy. “Right now, we have about 800 entry-level workers. We set up training classes at jobsites for these workers, and we put them through NCCER and ABC craft courses. We recognize people want to know where they are going and want to advance in their careers. We want them to know they have opportunities in this industry.”

Health and Safety

Safety is a pillar of importance and a core value for ABC Top Performers.

“We think of safety first and foremost,” said James. “No one wants to work in an unsafe environment.”

A culture of both physical and mental health and safety cannot exist without leadership taking a stand that includes an unwillingness to compromise safety and modeling this belief in their every action.

“Safety is the most important and our biggest priority,” said Higgins.

All Top Performers participate in ABC’s STEP Safety Management System. Founded in 1989 as a safety benchmarking and improvement tool, STEP has evolved into a world-class safety management system that demonstrates safety leadership and cultural transformation to clients.

“Safety first. Period,” said Stumpf.

STEP measures how leading indicators—proactive injury and hazard elimination tools on the jobsite—improve safety performance. The construction industry has long evaluated safety performance based on lagging indicators—statistics that measure performance based on past incidents or conditions. Lagging indicators rate companies not on the steps taken to prevent jobsite injuries and fatalities, but rather on the number of past safety failures.

“Rooted in our culture from the very beginning, safety is everything for us,” said Dupuy.

Committed to world-class safety, ABC’s top-performing STEP participants are more than six times safer than the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics industry average. ABC Top Performers achieve STEP Gold status or higher.

“Safety is paramount in importance, and we have a safety culture that emanates throughout everything we do,” said Bailey.

Challenging and transforming the status quo to create a belief that all incidents are preventable creates a culture where safety is considered a moral obligation not just for leadership, but for all employees.

“Safety is paramount,” said Farless. “It’s engrained in our culture.”

Innovation

“Innovation is a good thing and a true necessity,” said Higgins. “We look for efficiencies through innovation to help with labor shortages.”

Similarly, Dupuy said innovation is a must to remain competitive.

“We are consistently upgrading systems, services, software and procedures,” said Dupuy. “We are using predictive analytics, project control systems and materials handling systems. We are embracing VR and wearable technology.”

Stumpf said innovation is a key objective of Durr, and defined innovation as new ways of thinking, processes and technologies.

James remarked that the ingenuity of what her crews use in the field to get things done is incredible.

“Stronghold Engineering works to be at the forefront of the technology curve,” said

Bailey. “If there is a better way to get to the finished product, we will not hesitate to provide our thoughts to our client on the best innovative tools that will provide for a great quality project.”

Putting All the Ingredients Together

These ABC Top Performers recalled a recent project that exemplified the secret sauce that creates their quality culture.

“Brown & Root is leading the industry in the energy transition,” said Dupuy. “We recently completed a 14-month project at Louisiana’s Clean Diesel Plant three months ahead of schedule with zero safety incidents. Quality, productivity, thoughtful planning and innovation were all essential to success.”

“Mountain States Fence is in the middle of building 16,000 feet of permanent and temporary fencing at the Salt Lake City International Airport,” said Higgins. “We are working alongside multiple contractors and securing materials with competitive pricing through carefully coordinated efforts. This $550,000 job speaks to our stellar reputation because the clients and contractors trust us and view us as a company that does what we say we will do.”

“Durr recently completed the expansion of a cold storage facility in New Orleans,” said Stumpf. “We had no safety incidents and brought in respected, local subcontractors and vendors to assist in reaching the client’s goals. We were the first on call to address challenges or changes in scope. The client had complete trust in our abilities.”

“Executing a project at Bonnet Springs Park in Lakeland, Florida, Nature Bridges worked diligently with all the team entities from the owners, engineers and designers to bring the owner’s vision to life,” said James. “We worked hard to design on budget and we took into consideration everyone’s opinion to make the project come together.”

“Stronghold is in the process of completing our largest project to date at Ironwood State Prison in Blythe, California, and this exemplary project hits every mark,” said Bailey. “Our team excels at finding niche, technically challenging projects in remote locations. Our employees are hungry, humble, smart and ready to build a quality project done safely. This project was difficult to navigate, but we are happy with the result.”

Brown & Root Industrial Services

“SDV approaches every project the same way,” said Farless. “We are currently executing a $9 million upgrade to a historic courthouse in eastern New Mexico. We hire local and become part of the community. We pay per diem and keep the project on a four-day work week so employees can go home to their families.”

These contractors, their culture and their people are living, breathing examples of the merit shop philosophy. Not only do they offer an incredible employee value proposition, but they also develop their people, win quality work and deliver that work safely, ethically and profitably for the betterment of their communities.

Final 2022 ABC Construction Backlog Indicator at Highest Level Since Q2 2019

According to ABC's Construction Confidence Index, contractors enter 2023 with plenty of optimism. Many contractors remain focused on growth, with expectations for rising sales and staffing levels over the next half year. ABC's Construction Backlog Indicator remains elevated, which means that, even if the economy were to enter recession this year, contractors would likely be insulated from significant harm. However, there are signs that financing commercial real estate projects is more difficult, and the increase in the cost of capital has also jeopardized or postponed many projects. That said, contractors should remain relatively confident through the early parts of 2023.
